

THE COMIX METHOD

STUDIO UNLIMITED CERTIFICATION

RULES & GUIDELINES

- For a dance studio or business to earn certification, the entire course must be taken by a lead instructor or every instructor planning on utilizing the method. Resources may be shared with all staff members, but certificates will only be given to those who take the full course.
- For certification to succeed, it is strongly recommended that the studio has all relevant staff members learn the course material. The alternative option is for a lead teacher to certify and subsequently outline the structure and curriculum for all Hip Hop classes.
- Active Practitioner Status is achieved immediately by the certified school once a lead instructor completes the course. Maintaining active practitioner status for a school can be achieved through the same method as an individual would. See The Comix Method Titles page for more information on maintaining active practitioner status.
- Master Educator titles are only available to individual educators that have completed the course. Staff members of a Studio Unlimited certification may request a Master Educator evaluation through the same process as individuals who independently certify. See The Comix Method Titles page or Master Educators page for more information.
- The registered business owner will have access to the entire course, tests, and material, and must submit a request for new staff members to gain registration for the course. Any teacher within a studio unlimited certification that does not pass the test for their individual certificate must have the majority of lesson plans designed by a certified overseer of the program in order for the program to be recognized as actively utilizing The Comix Method.
- Any certified individuals who break contract with an employer that purchased the program risks losing certification and its perks. The registered business owner may submit for a removal of a staff member at any time.
- The Unlimited option applies to an unlimited amount of staff members within a 3 year period from purchase. Within this time frame, any number of staff members may register, study, and complete the course for certification. After a 3 year period, any new staff members may be added for a small access fee of $199 per person.
